

THE PLOT FAILED.

Attempt to Blow Up the Colombian President's Residence.

A MOVEMENT OF THE LIBERALS TO BEGIN A REVOLUTION.

Leaders Arrested, and They Will Be Shot or Exiled—How Nunez, Ruler of the Republic, Administers the Affairs of the Government—A Vice-President With Real Power.

New York, Aug. 8.—Advice from Panama says the Colombian Government has succeeded in frustrating a plot of the Liberals to blow up portions of Cartagena and the country residence of President Nunez with dynamite. The wildest excitement prevails as a consequence. Among those under arrest are Stomingo Villa, Governor of Panama in 1893, Gen. Uribe and Gen. Uribe. The latter was charged with the execution of the plot. All will probably either be shot or exiled. The intention was to follow up the destruction by dynamite with a general revolution throughout the Republic and overthrow the Government. The failure of the scheme is due to the betrayal of the plot by one of the participants.

President Nunez, the President of the Republic, has been crowned by his adherents and admirers as the "Tyrant President" of the Republic, a title which has been connected therewith. Among others, the so-called National party seeks to maintain his name as the head of their presidential ticket so long as he desires it, and his ambition seems to be a constant and permanent quantity, with one or other of his strongest political allies as "Vice-President." His attitude toward the beginning of a term is to take the oath of office, remain at the capital for a few weeks, then retire to his residence at Santa Fe de Cartagena, when the Vice-President serves out the remainder of the term. This sort of public service has its advantages more ways than one, for while the honors and emoluments of the high station are largely imposed upon the actual incumbent at Bogotá, by one of the peculiarities of the Colombian constitution the President steps beyond the municipal limits of the Capital City, he forfeits until his return right to administer or take any official part in the affairs of the Government.

Nunez is serving his third consecutive term of six years in the presidential office. The last election was held in December, 1891. Since his coming into power, the plan of Government in the Republic has been radically modified. Its federal character has been destroyed and a strong central government established, with supreme authority, the Bogotá. The Republic has been divided into departments, no longer electing a President as before, but the departmental administrative functions are now controlled by the central power at Bogotá. State military organizations are not permitted and the army is under direct control of the central Government.

The Liberal party in Colombia went out of power with the election of Nunez, and though unable to regain it through the ballot, is very active in intrigue and ever ready to foster any movement that may end in revolution and the overthrow of the Nunez regime.

The Republic has nine political divisions, which were called States before the advent of the Nunez administration. They are two on the Atlantic coast, Bolivar and Magdalena, with two coasts on both the Atlantic and Pacific, Cauca and Cauca, and six in the interior departments, Tolima, Antioquia, Boyaca, Cundinamarca and Santander.

THE FOREIGN JUDGES

Complaining of Their Treatment by the World's Fair Committee.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Foreign and domestic judges are complaining of the way they are treated by the Committee on Awards. Some of the foreigners have gone home without completing their work because they were not given sufficient assignments to keep them busy, while others objected to being assigned to the work which they were not qualified to do. The committee has two English judges who started on their homeward journey the other day gave as reasons for going that they were compelled to attend to important business, although much of the work which they were assigned to do was of a nature which they were not qualified to do. NOW UNDER ARREST

Harvey Johns, Who Posed as a Train-Wreck Hero.

SUSPECTED OF CONCOCTING A SCHEME FOR PROMOTION.

A Charge of Attempted Train Wrecking Will Be Preferred Against Him and Perhaps Others—He May Confess—Sim Reynolds Also Arrested—Crimes and Criminal News.

MACON, Mo., Aug. 9.—H. Johns, the young man who flared the Washburn passenger train near Atlanta last Friday morning and who had been suspected as one of the parties who extracted the rail from the track that night, was brought here from Moberly this morning and placed in jail. He was out under guard this forenoon pending a conference between the railroad officials and the Macon County authorities. Train Master Beathcan a special train from Moberly to Atlanta last night, taking Marshal Woods of La Plata and Sheriff Hindman of Macon with him to make further inquiries into the crime.

It is understood that a preliminary charge of attempted train wrecking against young Johns and Sim Reynolds and perhaps others is being prepared.

If young Johns is guilty or an accomplice it is believed that he will turn State's evidence against his pals. As a last resort the railroad officials and the Macon and LaPlata officers will work to that end in order to capture at least some of the guilty parties.

TO END HER LIFE.

William Heldin Says Maud Phillips Threatened to Commit Suicide.

SHE ADMITS THAT SHE TOOK A BOTTLE OF MEDICINE AT ONE DOSE.

Heldin Says That He Met Her When She Was Hunting for Work and Declares She Told Him That If He Did Not Go With Her He Would Never See Her Again.

William Heldin, who is wanted on a sensational charge of attempting to poison Maud Phillips and Mrs. Belle of 1507 Market street last Monday by giving them morphine instead of a drug they alleged they asked him to procure for them, was arrested last night by Detectives Crowley and Gaffney of the Third District. He was locked up for the night, and early this morning was transferred to the holdover at the Central District station.

HELDIN'S STATEMENT.

Heldin takes his arrest with great composure. When seen in the holdover this morning he laughingly denied the story told by the woman in his house on Monday, he said, "and never saw her again. I do not know what her idea is in trying to get me into trouble, but I guess I shall get out of it all right without much difficulty."

"Did you see her last Monday?"

"Yes, I saw her in the morning. About 11 o'clock she called on me at the Russell house, and she asked me to accompany her in her search for a job. I told her I could not go as I had some business of my own to attend to. She was feeling despondent, for she said that if I did not go with her then I would never see her again."

"What was she going to do?"

"That is what she said. She accused her sister, Mrs. Belle, of having her, and claimed that she ordered her to leave the house. She said that she was tired of it all. Just as she was leaving she said: 'They can take me to the morgue and chop me up to make medicine.' I told her that she was crazy, and she said she would do anything to make a fool of herself."

Both the sisters, though he claimed not to be intimate with either of them, he also declared that he was divorced from his wife as one of the women claimed, but said he did not think there was anything in it. The police who are investigating the case state that the woman who was with him on Monday night was a little different in many particulars. One woman claims that Heldin gave them a powder while the other is certain it was a liquid in a vial. There are also said to be other important inconsistencies.

Maud Phillips this morning applied to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep for a warrant against Heldin. In her story this morning she put an entirely new light upon the matter. She claims that in response to her request Heldin procured her a bottle of medicine for headache. The directions on the bottle were to take a teaspoonful every two hours, but instead of following this she took the whole bottle at one dose. Mr. Estep refused to issue a warrant.

SOUTH AMERICAN METHODISTS.

Bishop John Newman Found the Church There in a Flourishing Condition.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Bishop John Newman of Omaha is in the city, having just returned from South America, where he made the annual examination into the conditions of the missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He says: "I found our church has property worth about $700,000. From fifty to seventy men and women are engaged in teaching or preaching. There are 4,000 communicants and about 15,000 adherents of the Methodist Church. In Buenos Ayres I saw 1,000 Spanish children at a Methodist Sunday school. The constitutions of the Republics or most of them at least—favor the Catholics. The Methodist party is in most of them are opposed to the union of the church and state; because of the growth of this liberal sentiment, there are serious questions of the constitutional requirements that the Catholics shall be the recognized church. Two or three illustrations of this occurred during my visit. At Lima I wanted to preach the Gospel, but the authorities found I would not be allowed to preach in Spanish, but might preach in English. In Uruguay, as the constitution did not specify against the Methodist forms of worship, I was allowed to preach."

GOOD WORDS.

Rev. Sam Jones' Verdict After Seeing the Children's Camp.

"This is a Great Charity and God Will Bless It."

ENTHUSIASM AWAKENED BY THE WORK AT TREE VIEW FARM.

Time Life on the Piasas the Best for Health—Fresh Air Day and Night the Great Restorer of the Sick—Feeding the Camp—Preparations for Next Week—Benefits for the Fund.

One of the visitors at Tree View Farm, the Children's Summer Camp in the Piasas, was the Rev. Sam Jones. He had been talking to the people in the Chautauqua Valley about getting there and staying there. Some one told him of the camp and aroused his interest to such a pitch that he climbed the Hundred Steps, the stairway that forms a part of the pathway from the valley to the bluff top, and walked over to the camp.

He wandered all over the place, saw the children and talked with the mothers. The idea on which the charity is based commended itself to him when he first heard of it as such a practical scheme for the relief of the children who need help most. When he arrived at the farm the beauty of the place aroused his enthusiasm. What he saw and heard there increased his enthusiasm and on leaving he said: "This is a grand charity and I know God will bless it."

There is one feature about the camp that broad-minded visitors are glad to see. The patients are from all creeds and races. There is no narrowness or bigotry in the passing upon the applications for admission to its benefits. The only requirement is that the mother applying must have a sick child who can be benefited by a stay in the camp and by the medical attention given all residents there. No question of creed or nationality is raised. Every effort is made to get the sick children of the poor to the camp. Where it is necessary well children of the same family are accepted that the sick one may have the great opportunity to breathe the pure air on the Piasas.

The tent feature of the camp was not at first looked upon with favor by the more persons who had had experience in similar charitable work. They argued that no mothers would be content to sleep there with their children and as most families going to the camp had all their lives been used to closed sleeping-rooms the members would contract colds.

But it is the tent feature that is the camp's strongest point. Not only does the white canvas among the trees make the picture beautiful, but applicants for the privilege of sleeping in them are numerous and the children who sleep in them recover more rapidly than those in the house. Tree View is so high as to be above fog levels. The air at night is so clear the children say: "They're making lots and lots of new stars." No one catches cold there.

The superintendent, in making his last rounds at night, frequently comes upon children sleeping under the trees or in hammocks. They want to stay there and never are the worse for the exposure. They play so hard during the day they only want to sleep; they do not care and it does not seem to matter where.

The goat donated to the camp by a boy who had grown too large to play with it has had a splendid time. He used his horns too quickly one day and cut a little girl slightly on the forehead. Since that time only the older children have been permitted to play with him. He is very friendly and enjoys most the experiments the children make to learn the limits of his appetite. A while ago the doctor had dropped the goat and the goat accepted. He seemed to relish it, but the children said that because it was white. One insisted his goatship would eat tobacco or anything. This led to a violent dispute, at the end of which tests were made.

Some tobacco was got from a farmer and eaten by the goat. Burdock leaves, a bit of frayed rag and some canvas were devoured eagerly. Then a bright piece of calico about two inches wide and six yards long was offered. The goat took one end and inch by inch devoured it all. He showed no signs of distress afterward, but went on with the game until the children were tired out.

Dr. Louis T. Pim, the physician in charge of the camp this week, has all the work he can possibly do. Among his extreme cases is a mother and four children, who need almost constant attention. There were many very sick on Monday who were almost out of the doctor's care, and the progress in the extreme cases has been most flattering.

Some will have to remain over another week, but the majority will come away on Monday, when the seventh party of patients will arrive at the camp from the city to take their places. This party is being registered in the office of the Post-Dispatch. Applications should be made as early as possible, for only those registered can be taken. Those ticketed will leave the city on the harbor boat next Monday morning at 8 o'clock and will remain in the camp until the following Monday, when the last party of this season will take possession of the place.

A BENEFIT AT GREEN LAKE. St. Louisans away from home are deeply interested in the success of the Children's Camp. A letter from the Oakwoods, Green Lake, Wis., speaks of an entertainment which is to be given there by ladies from St. Louis. It is to be for the benefit of the Children's Camp and the following list of ladies interested is a guaranty of its success: Mrs. John A. McMill, Mrs. A. S. Barnes, Mrs. G. K. Oyer, Mrs. Geo. S. Beers, Mrs. J. D. Verdin, Mrs. S. P. Keyes, Mrs. Annie Lemp, and Mrs. Wm. J. Lemp. Mrs. Georgia Lee Cunningham, who is at the Oakwoods, has consent to assist.

THE THURSDAY CLUB'S SUMMER BENEFIT. Tickets for the progressive euchre to be given a week from to-morrow night in John A. Mahler's hall, 324 Lucas avenue, can only be obtained from the members of the club. End Thursday Euchre Club, under whose auspices it is given. The members are Mrs. R. A. Mills, Mrs. R. W. Morrison, Mrs. John A. Mahler, Mrs. Harry Skempeler, Mrs. U. W. Millings, Mrs. P. R. Fitterer, Mrs. H. B. Calvert, Mrs. H. C. Parker, Mrs. W. F. Werpel, Mrs. S. B. Johnson, Mrs. T. D. Matthews and Mrs. R. W. Johnson.

The committee on prizes is Mrs. Mahler, Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Mills, and the committee on arrangements Messrs. Mahler and Skempeler. Any person wishing to donate prizes may send the gift to Mrs. Mahler at Lucas avenue. All of the receipts will go for the benefit of the Children's Summer Camp, and that the amount will be large is a certainty. The price of tickets is 50 cents.

DOATIONS AT THE CAMP. The residents of Jersey County and the summer visitors there have done a great deal for the Children's Camp. Mrs. C. R. left St. Louis, after a visit, to be added to the fund. Victor Kayser, who was called on to repair the camp system, did a good job and refused to receive payment for his work. Wilson Hartman of Newburg, who was in Elmhurst yesterday, took seventeen patients to the camp in his wagon free of charge.

EUGENIA'S GIFT. A contribution of $1 to the Children's Camp Fund received on Saturday has not been acknowledged through an oversight. With it were these words: "Please accept for Piasa Children's Fund $1 from a little girl."

RESORTING TO FORCE.

Striking Bootmakers Intimidate Non-Union Workmen.

The striking bootmakers made no serious demonstrations to-day, but they are nevertheless quite active. Last night they waylaid several men from Wanger's factory on their way home and succeeded in intimidating four of the men to such an extent that they did not go to work this morning. They also intercepted three other men on the way to work this morning and persuaded them to join in the strike. One of Wanger's men was assaulted by the strikers near Eleventh and St. Louis avenue last night and badly beaten because he refused to quit work. This morning he presented himself at the shop with a pair of badly swollen eyes and sundry other marks of violence.

Mr. Wanger discharged one of the strikers employed by him this morning for spying for the strikers and for furnishing them information to be used in persuading the men at work to quit.

Mr. Wanger when seen this morning said that the strikers were causing him a great deal of trouble and that he intended to prosecute vigorously every man who molested them. He refused to discuss the discharge of the strikers mentioned above, but stated that he had also discharged several other men for the same reason.

At O'Brien's boot works everything was quiet and it was claimed that the strikers had caused no trouble since yesterday. Mr. O'Brien stated that all the men brought here to work at the Waters-Pierce Co. had gone to work of the 20 men usually employed by O'Brien but 10 are now at work.

SCORED ANOTHER HIT. New Features Added to the Bombardment of Ft. Sumter.

The fourth performance of the "Bombardment of Fort Sumter" will be given at new Sportsman's Park to-morrow evening. A larger crowd attended the show last evening than on the two first nights.

A new feature was added to the specialty programme in the shape of a flying trapeze act by the La Role Brothers. They executed a number of feats that were cheered to the echo. The first given by the Brothers Guards, fifty strong, with Capt. C. A. Sinclair in command, was as loudly applauded as the more showy and picturesque evolutions of the Bush Zouaves under Capt. Roemer.

Prof. Benjamin's "tumbling" act was made the hit of the evening. The dancers comprise five colored girls, whose ages range from 12 to 18. They are dressed in noisy costumes of red, green or white, execute a bewildering variety of "crazy" steps.

To-morrow night the Walsh Zouaves, under Capt. Heyman, will put up their prize drill, while more new features will be added to the specialty programme. The Amazeon march has been shortened and the pyrotechnic display increased in response to popular demand.

DEFECTIVE WATER PIPES. They Are the Cause of Much Damage in the Custom-House.

This morning one of the water pipes burst in the judge's room in the fourth story of the Custom-house, and in a short time the smaller room assigned to the clerk of the Circuit Court of Appeals, which is located on the third floor, was completely flooded. Great damage has been done to the Custom-house during the last two years by defective water pipes. The building was constructed of iron and was chosen as the material for the water pipes.

For some time the pipes have been rusting rapidly and breaks are of frequent occurrence. In many cases very serious damage has been done. Requests have been made of the Interior Department at Washington for an appropriation for remedying this defect, but so far nothing has been done.

Surveyor of the Port District stated that the plumbing in the Custom-house was in a very dangerous condition; that disastrous breaks might occur at any moment, and that he would do his best to have the defects remedied as soon as possible.

CARONDELET NEWS. Dogs Dying Rapidly in the Neighborhood of Loughborough Avenue.

An epidemic has broken out among the dogs in the vicinity of Loughborough, west of Grand avenue and south of Carondelet Park. The dogs in this locality are very numerous. There are very few valuable animals among them, but their owners mourn their loss as much as though they were all pedigreed.

The police think it is an epidemic among the dogs, but some of their neighbors who have lost one since the epidemic broke out say that there is a wholesale poisoning going on and that they will administer poison to the dogs who are found in the neighborhood.

The case of H. Meyer vs. John M. Sullivan was on trial before Judge Nease of the Loughborough court yesterday morning. Meyer claimed that Sullivan owed him money, and he attached his horse and buggy. Mr. Sullivan claimed the horse and buggy were his personal property and she repudiated them.

Philip R. Meyer, one of the best known men in Carondelet, died at his home, 113 Bow street, yesterday. He was 65 years of age.

The case against Thomas Vermilion, charged with distributing the plague, was dismissed by Judge Nease in the Carondelet Police Court yesterday, after a trial by jury.

Mrs. J. Wereman will give a euchre party at her residence, 3944 South Broadway, this evening.

FOR THE BABIES.

Dr. Grinnell Recommends Lactated Food.

Cholera Infantum Is Reaping an August Harvest.

Lactated Food Is the Surest Preventive.

It Has Saved the Lives of Many Infants.

Important That Parents Now Be Supplied With It.

"After using lactated food for five years in cases of children suffering from cholera infantum, and in debilitating or wasting diseases, during which time it has never failed me, I have pleasure in calling the attention of physicians to it, and in recommending its use."

So says A. P. Grinnell, M. D., the dean of the medical faculty of the University of Vermont, and the statement is published in the Ladies' Home Journal.

The statement is of inestimable value to mothers if they will but avail themselves of Prof. Grinnell's experience.

More than one-third of all the babies born die before they have lived a year, and two-thirds of the little unfortunates die in the summer months.

Cholera infantum is, of course, the most destructive cause. The infant's stomach gives out, and frequently the natural food is not nourishing. That is one reason why lactated food is used. This food is pleasant to the taste, easily digested, and contains the elements of strength that the little ones so badly need.

It is what physicians term a predigested food, and they consider it especially valuable in all weak conditions of the digestive organs, not only for infants, but for invalids, the aged and all whose stomachs are weak. Thousands of packages are prescribed every year by physicians, but the greatest demand comes at this season.

Wells, Richardson & Co. of Burlington, Vt., who put up lactated food, have probably received more heartfelt letters of gratitude from delighted mothers whose babies' lives the food has saved than one could read in a month. Hundreds of photographs of little ones have been sent to the company by grateful parents.

A child's life is too sacred a thing to be trifled with. Lactated food should be used from now on through the summer until the child is old enough to eat other food with safety. It is not expensive; it is not a secret; it is prepared under the supervision of no less a man than Prof. Boynton of the Vermont University; it will prevent cholera infantum; it will save the life of the child who is wasting away with this dread disease. From every part of the country come the most grateful testimonials of its value—from mothers and fathers whose babies have been saved and from invalids to whom it has given strength.

Lactated food is not a medicine—it is simply nature's substitute for mother's milk, and is a pure food that has saved many a little one's life. All reputable druggists sell it and at this season of the year it is of the utmost importance that parents supply themselves with it.
